

of May, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine, so as to cause advertisements and notices required by law or rules of court to be published in newspapers of general circulation, unless dispensed with by special order of court, to be published in the legal newspaper, issued at least weekly, of the proper county, designated by rules of court for the publication of court or other notices, in counties having a population of one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants or more, instead of five hundred thousand inhabitants, as required by the first act," is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Advertisements to be published in legal newspaper.

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That hereafter in all counties of the first, second, third, fourth, and fifth class of the Commonwealth, [having one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants or more,] every notice or advertisement required by law or rules of court to be published in one or more newspapers of general circulation, unless dispensed with by special order of court, shall also be published in the legal newspaper, issued at least weekly, in said county, designated by rules of court for the publication of court or other legal notices, if such newspaper exists. Publication in such legal newspaper shall be made as often as required to be made in such newspapers in general circulation, and shall be subject to the same stipulations and regulations as those imposed for the like services upon all newspapers: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to require the publication in such legal newspapers of municipal ordinances, mercantile appraisers' notice, advertising for bids for contracts for public work, or lists of delinquent taxpayers.
