Board of Directors.

Proviso.

Election.

Term.

Vacancies.

Section 14. The board of directors of each association shall consist of not less than five members. At the first regular meeting of the association, a quorum as specified by the by-laws being present, the members shall elect from among themselves directors for the term of one year. At the expiration of the terms of directors so elected, their successors shall be elected in like manner for terms of one year: Provided, That certain directors may [at the first regular meeting of a newly organized association, or in the case of associations already existing, then at the first meeting held for election purposes after this amendment becomes effective,] be elected for terms longer than one year, so that thereafter one-third, as nearly as possible, of such directors may be elected every year for terms of three years. Directors shall hold office until their successors have been elected and qualified and until their successors shall enter upon the discharge of their duties. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired terms at any regular meeting or at any special meeting called for the purpose by the board of directors. The board of directors shall manage the affairs of the association, and shall perform such other duties as may be specifically imposed upon the board by this act.
