

shall, by ordinance, fix the amount of salary to be paid to the mayor for his services, and may provide for the assessment and retention therefrom of reasonable fines for absence from regular or special meetings of council or councilmanic committees. The amount of salary in cities shall not be less than five hundred dollars. Until changed by ordinance, the salary of mayors in newly created cities shall be as follows: In cities having a population of fifteen thousand or under, by the last United States census, [five hundred] one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; in cities having a population of over fifteen thousand, and less than thirty thousand inhabitants, [one thousand two hundred] two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; in cities having a population exceeding thirty thousand, [and not exceeding fifty thousand inhabitants, two thousand five hundred and fifty dollars per annum; in cities having a population of over fifty thousand and not exceeding seventy thousand inhabitants, three thousand dollars per annum; in cities having a population of over seventy thousand inhabitants, three thousand five hundred] four thousand eight hundred dollars per annum.

The amount of compensation for the mayor in any of the said cities shall not be increased or diminished after his election. Succeeding councils may change the amount of the mayor's compensation, but such change shall not affect the compensation of the mayor then in office or of any person taking office as mayor within six months of final passage of the ordinance providing for such change.
