

with," by providing that certain low pressure boilers used for heating purposes only shall be exempt from the requirements of said section, which prohibits the installation of boilers within one hundred feet of structures in which persons are employed in the preparation of anthracite coal.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1. Section two of article five of the act, approved the second day of June, one thousand eight hundred ninety-one (Pamphlet Laws, one hundred seventy-six), entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2, of article V, act of June 2, 1891, P. L. 176, amended.

Section 2. It shall not be lawful to place any boiler or boilers, for the purpose of generating steam, under nor nearer than one hundred (100) feet to any coal breaker or other structure in which persons are employed in the preparation of coal: Provided, That this section shall not apply to boilers or breakers already erected: And provided further, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to apply to boilers carrying a pressure of not more than fifteen pounds per square inch, which are used for heating purposes and which are equipped with safety devices approved by the Department of Mines and Mining.

Boilers shall not be nearer the breaker than 100 feet.

Proviso.
