An ACT to incorporate the Upper Presbyterian congregation of Marsh creek, in the county of York.

Passed 13th September, 1787—Private Act.—Recorded in Law Book No. III. page 313.

CHAPTER MCCXCIX.

An ACT to divide Washington county into election districts.

SECT. I. WHEREAS, by the eighteenth section of the constitution, it is provided, that each county at its own choice may be divided into districts, hold elections therein, and elect their representatives in the county, and their other elective officers: And as a division of the county of Washington would contribute to the ease and convenience of the good citizens thereof, in holding their annual elections:

SECT. II. Be it therefore enacted, and it is hereby enacted by the Representatives of the Freemen of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and by the authority of the same, That from and after the ninth day of October next, the elections of the county of Washington, which is divided into six districts, shall be held in six places; to wit, the freemen of the county within the following bounds, beginning at the mouth of Ten Mile Creek, and up the same to the head of David Gray's branch, and thence to the nearest head of Wheeling creek, and down said creek to the state line, thence along said line to Monongahela river, thence down said river to the place of beginning, being the first district, shall hold their elections at the house of Jacob Cline, on Muddy creek; the freemen of the following bounds, beginning at the mouth of Peter's creek, and up the same to the head of the south fork thereof, thence along the dividing ridge, which divides the waters of Monongahela river, and Chartiers creek, to the great road leading from Redstone ferry to Washington, near Martin Dagger's, thence by a straight line to David Enoch's mill, on the north fork of Ten Mile creek, thence by a south line to the principal south fork of said creek, thence with the line of the first district down said creek to Monongahela river, thence down said river to the place of beginning, be-
