CHAPTER MCCCCXV.

An ACT to erect Wyoming township and that part of Catawissey, and Mahoning townships, herein after described, in the county of Northumberland, into a separate election district.

SECT. I. WHEREAS the freemen of Wyoming township, and part of the freemen of Catawissey and Mahoning townships, in the county of Northumberland, have, by their petitions, set forth, that they labour under very great inconveniencies, on account of the distance many of them live from the place of holding the annual election, as well as on account of the bad roads they are obliged to pass over in their way to the said elections: For the remedy whereof,

SECT. II. Be it enacted, and it is hereby enacted by the Representatives of the Freemen of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and by the authority of the same, That all the freemen living within the following bounds, viz. beginning at a place, known by the name of the Bear Gap of Roaring creek, thence down the same creek about three miles, thence with a straight line to the head branch of Little Roaring creek, thence down the same to the north-east branch of the river Susquehanna, thence down the same to the lower end of James Cochran's plantation, thence across the river by a north line, to be run through the township of Mahoning, to the northern boundary thereof, including all Wyoming township, and all those parts of Catawissey and Mahoning townships that are north and east of said lines, in the county of Northumberland aforesaid, shall, from and after the passing of this act, be struck off and separated from the first and second districts in the said county, and established and erected into a separate district, called the seventh district in the county of Northumberland aforesaid, and that the freemen of the said seventh district now erected, as aforesaid, shall hold their elections at the house of Samuel Boon, near the mouth of fishing creek, any thing in a former law, obliging

The seventh election district of Northumberland county erected.
