CHAPTER MDCCCXCIII.

An ACT to annul and repeal so much of any charter or law of this state, as empowers the inhabitants of the borough of Bristol, in the county of Bucks, to hold and keep fairs within the same.

WHEREAS the Burgesses and Common Council and other inhabitants of the borough of Bristol, and the adjoining townships, in the county of Bucks, have by their petition, set forth, that the fairs originally established by charter within the said borough have become useless and unnecessary, and promote licentiousness, vice and immorality, and have prayed that the same may be abolished: Therefore,

SECT. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That from and after the passing of this act, so much, and no more, of any law or charter of this state, as empowers the inhabitants of the borough of Bristol, to hold and keep fairs within the same, is hereby repealed, annulled and made void.

Repeal of the charter power of Bristol to hold fairs.

Passed 4th April, 1796.—Recorded in Law Book No. VI. page 126.

CHAPTER MDCCCXCIV.

An ACT to alter and amend the several acts of the General Assembly of this commonwealth, incorporating the city of Philadelphia.

See vol. 2, pa. 462, chap. 1383, and the note there-to.

WHEREAS many of the citizens of Philadelphia have prayed for such alterations in their charter of incorporation, as that it may be rendered more similar to the frame of government of this commonwealth, and it is reasonable that the prayer of their petitions should be granted: Therefore,

SECT. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the freemen of the city of Philadelphia, qualified to elect members of the General Assembly of this commonwealth, shall meet together on the second Tuesday of October next, and on the same day year-

Of the election of members of the Common Council.
