CHAPTER MMCCLIV.

AN ACT FOR THE RELIEF OF DIVERS INHABITANTS OF THE COUNTY OF ADAMS.

Whereas, sundry of the inhabitants of the county of Adams have represented to the legislature that they hold lands in the said county which were settled and improved previously to the eighteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and forty-one, when a warrant issued for the erection of the manor of Mask, in the said county, the boundary of which was not ascertained till June, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and sixty-five. That during that period of uncertainty as to the actual limits of the said manor, the present applicants, or those under whom they claim, being supposed to be embraced by it, were precluded from paying the purchase money of their respective tracts, by the proper office being shut against the receipt thereof. That by order of the proprietor, a list descriptive of the names of the first settlers and the dates of their settlement was made and returned into the land office, as evidencing the inception of title in the said manor. But that on the establishment of the boundary, some of the persons named in the said list, under whom the present applicants claim, found their settlements in whole or in part excluded from the said manor; and that the late proprietors in the adjustment of the purchase money with the said settlers and their legal representatives who were included in the manor, thought it just and equitable to exonerate from the payment of interest on their respective purchases during the period aforesaid. And whereas the same justice and equity is alike due to all who are similarly circumstanced: Therefore,
