AN ACT TO ENABLE ELIZABETH TRAVIS, WIDOW, AND ADMINISTRATRIX OF ALL AND SINGULAR THE GOODS AND CHATTELS, RIGHTS AND CREDITS OF JOHN TRAVIS, LATE OF THE CITY OF PHILADELPHIA, MERCHANT, DECEASED, TO EXECUTE THE TRUSTS OF A CERTAIN DEED THEREIN MENTIONED.

Whereas John Travis, late of the city of Philadelphia, merchant, by deed duly executed, dated the thirtieth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and one; which said deed for the greater certainty thereof is recorded in the Rolls Office of this Commonwealth, in commission book No. 2 page 244. &c. did declare as follows; that is to say: "Whereas I, the said John Travis, as one of the partners of the firm of Nathaniel and Falkner Phillips and Company, of Manchester, merchants, and as agent to the house of John and Jeremiah Naylor, of Wakefield, in the island of Great Britain, merchants, have obtained and acquired divers tracts of land and other estate, situate in the United States, in security for the payment of divers debts or sums of money to the said firms respectively owing: And whereas in case of my death, prior to the final settlement of the transactions for which the same were acquired, confusion and difficulty might arise in distinguishing the respective interests of the said firms, I the said John Travis, for the prevention thereof, and for other purposes, do make and execute this declaration of trust, and proceed therein to designate all the estate whatsoever which I now hold in security aforesaid, and also the debts for which the same were taken." And the said John Travis, by the said deed, did accordingly designate and specify the estate so held as aforesaid, and also the debts for which the same were taken, as by the said deed may at large appear: And whereas Elizabeth Travis, widow and administratrix of the said John Travis, hath represented to the legislature, that the said John Travis, hath lately died intestate, not having finally settled the partnership transactions and agencies aforesaid, and that the legal title to the said property and estate hath, by the law of this commonwealth, vested in her son, an infant of very tender years, who is legally incompetent to execute and discharge the trusts attached thereto, and that it would be inconvenient and injurious to all parties concerned, to delay the settlement of the partnership transactions and agencies aforesaid, during a long minority, and that such final settlement cannot take place without a sale of the property so held in trust, and has humbly requested that a law may be passed to enable her, the said Elizabeth Travis, to execute the trusts of the said deed: And the truth of the premises satisfactorily appearing to the legislature, and it being reasonable to comply with the request of the said Elizabeth Travis: Therefore, rolls office of this commonwealth, in commission book, No. 2. page 244, &c., so far as relates to any estate or property in the said deed specified and contained within this commonwealth, and, upon such request as aforesaid, to sell and dispose of the same in fee simple, or otherwise, according to the estate which the said John Travis had and held in the same, or to vest the same in other trustees, for the purposes aforesaid, as may be most advantageous for all the parties concerned therein, so that the said Elizabeth Travis may be enabled, by the proceeds of any sale or sales of the said trust, estate or other disposition thereof, finally to settle and adjust the partnership transactions of the house of Nathaniel and Falkner Phillips and Company, and the agencies of the said John Travis to the house of John and Jeremiah Naylor, according to their respective interests therein.
